54 HUN AIRPLANES DOWNED AT CAMBRAI

London, March 25.—An official report on the aerial operation says that 54 enemy airplanes have been brought down.

The text of the statement was:

"The enemy's low flying airplanes were most persistent in their attack on our infantry in the forward areas. Many of these machines were attacked ed and brought down by our pilots. A total of twenty-nine hostile machines were brought down and twenty-five others were driven down out of control. Two enemy balloons also were destroyed. Nine of our machines are missing.

"Our machines on Saturday carried out another most successful raid on factories in Mannheim.

Several fires were started, one of which was of great size, with the flames reaching to a height of 200 feet and smoke to 5000 feet. The conflagration was visible for a distance of thirty-five miles.

"During the night following heavy bombs were dropped on an important railway bridge and works at Konz just south of Treves, in Germany. Eight of these bombs were clearly seen to be bursting among the railway works.

"Despite this severe combat and the enemy's heavy anti-aircraft gun fire, all our machines returned except two."

TWO NOTABLE MEN HOPEFUL OF END

San Francisco, March 25.—The German drive has awakened the west to a realization of the seriousness of the war, said T. P. O'Connor, noted Irish journalist and member of the British parliament. He spoke before the Burlingame Country Club.

"It was especially gratifying to me to see the universal interest shown throughout the west in the story of the battle," Mr. O'Connor said, "Gratifying also was the undisguised anxiety of the people that the allied forces should win."

"I have not the smallest fear that the Germans will produce a decision, for a decision means the wholesale destruction by death and surrender of a great portion, if not the whole of an army, such as occurred, for instance, at Sedan.

"To me the most hopeful fact of the situation is that this looks like a last desperate gamble of the German commanders to anticipate the arrival of the American troops by the destruction of the French and the British. It is a gamble which is costing hundreds of thousands of lives in a nation already depressed by the ever receding prospect of success, and which must exercise a profound influence on the German people. The Kaiser and Junkerism are throwing all their stakes on the table, and unless they win their loss must be decisive."

found influence on the German people. The Kaiser and Junkerism are throwing all their stakes on the table, and unless they win their loss must be decisive."

GERMAN DYES ARE NOW MADE IN U. S.

Washington, March 25.—Manufacture of German dyes by American companies has already been begun. A dye famine, which has existed since 1914, will be relieved.

The federal trade commission announced the first issuance of licenses under German dye patents. Proper formulas have been arrived at after months of experiment. In almost all instances Teutonic firms have given insufficient descriptions, and it was almost impossible to determine the correct formulas.

In some cases where attempts were made to combine ingredients explosions occurred. Failures were numerous. In other cases the formulas worked out satisfactorily in laboratory tests, but failed when the commercial production was attempted.

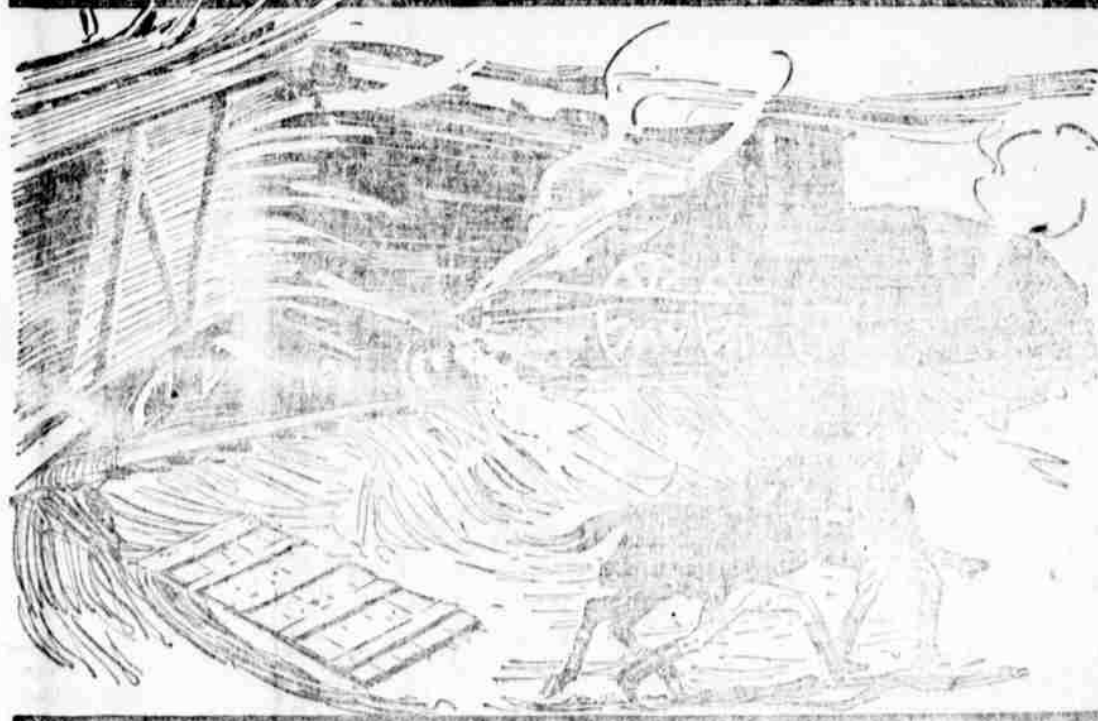

The licenses for American use of the enemy patents are for the entire life of the patent instead of only for the duration of the war in practically every instance.

Concerns benefitting by the licenses will pay the alien property custodian 5 per cent of gross receipts from the sales of the articles involved or 5 per cent of a valuation determined by the trade commission.
